

Cybercrime continues to escalate in a hyperconnected business ecosystem.

Cybercrime jumps to the second most reported crime...

32%
of organisations affected
...and 34%
think they will be affected
in the next two years

61%
of CEOs are concerned about cyber security*

But less than half of board members request information about their organisation's state of cyber-readiness

*19th Annual CEO Survey

Only 37%
of organisations have a cyber incident response plan

Most companies are still not adequately prepared for or even understand the risks faced and the make up of this team varies widely

How will your cyber-response plan stand up to reality?
